

Erik Seversen

Intercultural Creativity® Speaker

8x Bestselling Author, Speaker, Adventurer, Entrepreneur, Educator.

As a writer and book consultant, I am committed to filling the world with positivity in areas of mindset, fitness, success, happiness, and gratitude. I strongly believe we can change the world one letter at a time.

As a speaker and coach, I help people reach bigger goals than they thought possible through motivational and practical content helping others see through distractions and focus on the important.

As owner of Language Linq, I help people gain happiness and improve their lives by eliminating English language as a barrier in school, business, or life.

With over ten-years' experience teaching at the university level and over ten years in business, helping people turn knowledge into action and get results is my mission.
